

Blackadder II

Six BBC TV episodes starring Rowan Atkinson, Miranda Richardson, Stephen Fry, Hugh Laurie, and Tony Robinson. England 1558-1603. The filthy genes of the Blackadder dynasty bubble to the surface of history's melting pot as Lord Edmund, arrogant peer-about-town, swaggers with a big head and small beard in search of grace and favour from the stark raving mad Queen Bess. Listen as Lord Blackadder falls in love with a girl named Bob, takes over the job of executioner whilst almost losing his own head, schemes to raise 1,000 pounds to pay off a perverted Bishop, goes on a far-off sea voyage to the remote country of France, and plays Charades with a member of the Spanish Inquisition. Accompanied by a small rabble of beruffled riff-raff (bottom-breath Baldrick and pea-brain Percy) the serpentine Lord Blackadder lowers the whole tone of England's Golden Age. The collection includes the following episodes: Bells, Head, Potato, Money, Beer, and Chains.

6/6 The evil Prince Ludwig kidnaps both Blackadder and Lord Melchett. View Programme information. Beer. 5/6 Problems arise after an embarrassing incident Edmund is awarded the post of Lord High Executioner, a position which frequently results in the loss of one's own head. Potato. S1, Ep3. 23 Jan. 1986. Potato. - 3 min - Uploaded by BBC Studios When Blackadder, Percy and Baldrick return from their long sea voyage, Escaping from the - 3 min - Uploaded by BBC Comedy Greats Blackadder is Lord High Executioner when Lady Farrow appears demanding to see her Lord Blackadder and Bob. Lord Blackadder employs a young man called Bob to whom he finds himself attracted, much to his dismay. Comedy Potato is an episode of Black-Adder II starring Rowan Atkinson, Tim Edmund Blackadder immediately announces his own voyage of discovery, Comedy Blackadder develops feelings for a woman posing as his male servant. Bells is an episode of Black-Adder II starring Rowan Atkinson, Tim Comedy Money is an episode of Black-Adder II starring Rowan Atkinson, Tim McInnerny, and Rowan Atkinson and Tony Robinson in Black-Adder II (1986) Blackadder II is set in England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I the great-grandson of the original Black Adder. Blackadder II is de tweede serie afleveringen van de Britse sitcom Blackadder, in 1986 uitgezonden op BBC 1. De serie speelt in het Engeland ten tijde van Blackadder II ar den andra serien i BBC:s komedi Svarte Orm, skriven av Richard Curtis och Ben Elton, som sandes fran den 9 januari 1986 till den 20 februari Black-Adder II (TV Series 1986) Trivia on IMDb: Cameos, Mistakes, Spoilers and more This article lists the characters in the four series and three special episodes of the British sitcom . Blackadder II The first Melchett appeared in series two of Blackadder. He is Lord Chamberlain to Queen Elizabeth I. Affectionately known to the