SHADOW PREY A slumlord and a welfare supervisor butchered in Minneapolis ... a rising political star executed in Manhattan ... an influential judge taken in Oklahoma City ... All the homicides have the same grisly method - the victims throat is slashed with an Indian ceremonial knife - and in every case the twisted trail leads back through the Minnesota Native American community to an embodiment of primal evil known as Shadow Love. Once unleashed, Shadow Loves need to kill cannot be checked, even by those who think they control him. Soon he will be stalking Lucas Davenport - and the woman he loves...

SMOKESCREEN Edward Lincoln, an action movie star, has just finished filming his new film Man in a Car on location in Spain. Upon returning he receives a call from Nerissa, a old family friend, who is dying from cancer. Nerissa requests that Edward go to South Africa to check on her racehorses and find out why they are not running well. Upon arriving in South Africa, Edward meets Nerissas nephew from the US, Danilo. Upon initially meeting Danilo, Edward does not suspect him as being responsible for the sabotage of the horses. But, Edward finds out later he is not what he seems, he is sabotaging the horses he is to inherit and trying to inherit Edwards part of the inheritance as well.

THERE WAS A LITTLE GIRL Matthew Hope is the focus of this series and the novels revolve largely around his activities and are filtered largely through his consciousness. Matthew is a divorced, middle-aged lawyer who lives alone in the middle-sized city of Calusa, Florida. His daughter, with whom he tries valiantly to maintain a close relationship, is now attending boarding school in Connecticut. The distance between father and daughter frustrates Matthew to no end. Susan, Matthews former wife, with whom he briefly entertained a renewed relationship and currently is on friendly
